Berry and Moore Join The Stories of Your Life

Jack Berry and Terry Moore, two of Michigan's longstanding and most respected golf writers, have joined The Stories of Your Life, a memoir and life story writing company based in Grand Rapids, Mich. Launched six years ago by personal historian Debra Bek Moore, The Stories of Your Life captures an individual's life-long memories, stories and reflections and preserves them in written form for the sake of family and friends.

"Everyone has a story to tell and golfers are especially unique. It's an individual sport but it touches upon family, friends, teachers, competitors, tournaments, business associates, courses, and the basic allure of the game," said Berry, the 2008 PGA of America's Lifetime Journalism Award recipient. "There's a wealth of stories in the golf community that cry out to be recorded and preserved either as a personal record or for posterity's sake."

Founding editor of Michigan Golfer, Terry Moore echoed Berry's enthusiasm for their new venture. "It's a perfect match for our skills and experiences and allows us to help someone tell his or her life story—including the golf tales--that otherwise may be lost to future generations. And you don't have to be a scratch golfer to have a scratch life story."

The typical life story project consists of a series of guided taped conversations with a person. The resulting transcript is polished into a well-written and cohesive narrative in the person's own voice. Often, photographs, letters and other memorabilia are added to round out and enlarge the life story. Through the advancement of custom publishing, various printing and binding options are now offered at affordable prices and budgets.

The highlight of the project is when the finished books arrive and are presented to family and friends. "Every single client of mine over has been so happy to have completed a life story and to share it with sons, daughters, and grandchildren," said Debra Bek Moore who's a member of the Association of Personal Historians. "And many times it's a person's son or daughter who has contacted us and arranged a life story as a birthday, Christmas or anniversary gift."

In addition to The Stories of Your Life, Berry and Moore will continue to write and talk about golf for a variety of media outlets.
